International interdisciplinary conference on

Gender, Sexuality & Health

Introduction
On behalf of the Conference Committee, welcome to Vancouver, to Simon Fraser University, and to the international interdisciplinary conference on 'Gender, Sexuality and Health'. We are delighted to be hosting such a unique and exciting event here at SFU Harbour Centre.

This conference is unique in two key respects. It represents the first time that scholars working in the - traditionally distinct, and sometimes disparate - fields of 'Women's/Gender Studies' and 'Sexuality/LGBTQ Studies' have been brought together to focus on health issues in the context of an international conference; and it represents the first time that a broad spectrum of health issues relating to gender and sexuality has been brought together at such a conference. These unique features give the conference the capacity both to take forward contemporary health research and to influence health policy in some crucial ways: focusing on the social determinants of health and illness; on diversity in healthcare needs; and on issues of equity in healthcare provision. It will move us forward beyond a focus on single variables (e.g. gender or sexuality), or single issues (e.g. HIV/AIDS, maternity provision, mental health) to consider the intersection of variables across a wide range of issues relevant to health and well-being.

The conference will provide a major opportunity for dialogue and debate between specialists in Gender Studies and Sexuality Studies; an opportunity for the development of a research and policy agenda based on a creative synthesis of scholarship across these distinct fields; and an opportunity to consider the application of such an integrated agenda across a wide range of health issues, which have previously been addressed only in a piecemeal fashion. With delegates from more than 20 countries (representing all the continents of the world), the conference will facilitate the development of international networks, and enable exploration of possibilities for collaboration in research and policy-making. It will enable movement towards a global analysis, while retaining a focus on local specificities. With a substantial graduate student attendance, the conference will also build research and policy-making capacity for the future.

This conference is a landmark event for social scientific research on health in Canada. It provides an unparalleled opportunity for Canadian delegates - representing the provinces of Alberta, Ontario, Manitoba, Quebec, Nova Scotia, and Newfoundland, as well as British Columbia - both to develop and extend their own research through international dialogue and debate, and to develop international networks and potential collaborative links, extending well beyond the conference itself. It will also create significant opportunities to publicize and publish cutting-edge scholarship.

I am very pleased that it has been possible, in my capacity as Ruth Wynn Woodward Professor, to take major organizational responsibility for making this conference happen. It is both topical and timely: Simon Fraser University recently identified Health as one of its current top ten research priorities, and it is poised to launch a new Faculty of Health Sciences, with an inaugural Graduate Program in Population and Public Health. This international, interdisciplinary conference both helps to publicize these new developments, and serves to demonstrate the centrality of Gender and Sexuality Studies to the field of Health.

We look forward very much to your participation, and we hope you enjoy the conference.

WELCOME FROM OUR HOST DEPARTMENT
DEPARTMENT OF WOMEN'S STUDIES, SIMON FRASER UNIVERSITY

The Department of Women's Studies has been very fortunate to have Sue Wilkinson as our Ruth Wynn Woodward Professor and as the organizer and Chair of this conference. This very important conference on women's health and sexuality ideally fulfils the Ruth Wynn Woodward Professor's mandate both to advance feminist scholarship and to interact with communities of women activists and scholars. It also raises the profile of these issues within the University, the health research community in British Columbia, and - more broadly - nationally and internationally. The conference comes at a crucial time when governments are rethinking public policy and health care and it will be highly significant in raising women's issues as this debate continues. Women's health and sexuality issues are too frequently dismissed when the future of health care is discussed, and this conference will bring these issues to the forefront, and provide a catalyst for future debates concerning health-related public policy and the provision of appropriate health care. The conference will also provide a significant opportunity to publicize and to develop feminist scholarship in the area of health and illness, highlighting the importance of gender and sexuality. We welcome you to all to Simon Fraser University at Harbour Centre.

Chair, Department of Women's Studies

WELCOME FROM OUR CO-SPONSOR
THE BRITISH COLUMBIA CENTRE OF EXCELLENCE FOR WOMEN'S HEALTH

The British Columbia Centre of Excellence is pleased to welcome you to this international, interdisciplinary conference. We are part of the Centres of Excellence for Women's Health program funded by the Women's Health Bureau of Health Canada. As an organization devoted to the facilitation of policy-relevant research on girls' and women's health, we are very pleased that the one of the objectives of this conference is to work towards an integrated research and policy agenda addressing gender, sexuality and health. We welcome the opportunity to introduce the BC Centre of Excellence for Women's Health to you and to learn how we might forge productive collaborations for enhanced research and policy making. We work in partnerships across disciplines, paradigms and organizations to generate knowledge to improve the lives of girls and women. We are excited about the opportunity that this conference affords us to discuss the latest in research, theory and practice relevant to gender, sexuality and health.

Director,
British Columbia Centre of Excellence for Women's Health
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This conference would not have been possible without the generous financial support, and support in kind, provided by the Women's Studies Department and the Ruth Wynn Woodward Endowment at Simon Fraser University. Further 'in-house' support was also received from the President of SFU, the Vice-President (Academic), and the Institute for Health Research and Education (IHRE). We are particularly grateful to IHRE for funding one of the keynote speakers and two of the student bursaries.

We are also grateful to our co-sponsors, the British Columbia Centre of Excellence for Women's Health, both for their interest in the conference, and for financial assistance. We have used part of their contribution to subsidise the registration of a limited number of members of the local health community who would not otherwise have been able to attend the conference.

A conference grant from the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada enabled us to utilize the Harbour Centre venue, to fund the remaining keynotes, and to offer bursary support to overseas graduate students from Australia, Brazil, England and Nigeria, as well as to Canadian students from British Columbia, Alberta, and Ontario.

A conference grant from the Canadian Institutes for Health Research, Institute of Gender and Health enabled further support of graduate students and post-doctoral researchers from China, India, the USA and Canada.

We acknowledge that the Harbour Centre venue is located on the Traditional Territories of the Musqueam, Tsleil-Waututh, Squamish and Sto:lo Nations.

Thanks to Olena Hankivsky, Pearl Hunt and Marjorie Griffin Cohen for their invaluable advice and assistance in preparing grant proposals.

Thanks to Wilson Nam for designing the splendid conference website (and for being so receptive to suggestions for changes); Carol Thorbes for organizing media publicity; and Penny Southby and Florence Lourdes of SFU Conference Services for keeping track of registrations and generally ensuring everything progressed smoothly.

Particular thanks to the members of the conference committee for their sterling assistance, particularly in reviewing submissions and in general 'troubleshooting'; and to the team of volunteer helpers for their willingness to go the extra mile.

Finally, the staff assistance of Billie Korstrom, in the early stages of organizing this conference, and Nancy McCuaig, in the later stages, has been invaluable: many thanks to you both. In my assessment - no doubt endorsed by many others - the delegate who referred to Nancy as "the conference angel" was absolutely spot on.

A NOTE TO GRADUATE STUDENTS

The Conference Committee would like to extend a special welcome to graduate students - and also to any undergraduate students - attending this conference.

We have attempted to make the conference particularly attractive to graduate students: we have a graduate student keynote speaker; and an invited graduate student symposium; as well as a number of professional development workshops (see 'Special Features' in the Conference Program section of this booklet).

We have given high priority to funding graduate student delegates, via bursaries and travel grants; and have kept student registration costs as low as possible. We are pleased that this has resulted in a substantial number of graduate students registering for the conference, presenting papers and posters, and contributing to symposia and workshops.

Graduate students have been centrally involved at all stages of the conference organization, from the earliest planning to the event itself. We have received invaluable assistance from the two graduate students on the conference committee; and graduate students will be helping out at registration, in the conference office, at the poster sessions and other exhibits, and in dealing with media enquiries, as well as chairing a number of conference sessions.

We hope you enjoy the conference, and find it helpful to your future careers. Thank you for joining us!

WOMEN'S STUDIES AT SIMON FRASER UNIVERSITY

Simon Fraser University was the first university in Canada to develop a Women's Studies Program for credit. The first credit course, the Geography of Gender, was offered in 1971.

The proposal for a Women's Studies Minor Program was approved by the University Senate in July 1975. In January 1976, the first Women's Studies course was offered. Forty students enrolled in WS 101, Introduction to Women's Studies. By 1999-2000, almost 650 students were enrolled in over 40 Women's Studies courses.

The Women's Studies Department now offers a number of undergraduate courses ( Majors, Joint Majors and Minors); an M.A. Program; and a PhD Program.

There are four full-time faculty members, four faculty jointly appointed with another department, eight faculty from other departments who serve as associate members of the Women's Studies Department, and one endowed professor (the Ruth Wynn Woodward Professor). Sessional instructors, tutor-markers, and three staff members are also employed by the Department.

For further information, visit our website at: <http://www.sfu.ca/womens-studies>

THE RUTH WYNN WOODWARD PROFESSORSHIP

In 1984, with a grant from Secretary of State and matching funds from private donations, an endowed professorship in Women's Studies was established. Private donors included Mrs. Mary Twigg White and Mrs. Elizabeth Russ, daughters of Ruth Wynn Woodward; the Vancouver Foundation; and many other individuals and groups.

The professorship was named for Ruth Wynn Woodward, one of British Columbia's outstanding pioneer women. Through a lifetime of public service and personal accomplishment, she demonstrated the importance of the work of women to Canadian society. As well as raising three children, she was director and vice-president of Woodwards' Stores Ltd., owner/operator of Woodwynn Farm, a founding director of the Junior League of Vancouver, and president of the Women's Auxiliary of Vancouver General Hospital.

The Ruth Wynn Woodward Professor's mandate is to engage both in feminist scholarship and in community outreach. The Ruth Wynn Woodward (RWW) Endowment provides resources to support this work. In particular, it provides the RWW Professor and the Women's Studies Department with the resources to host conferences and to invite high-profile speakers to address issues of current interest and concern. For several years, the Department offered RWW post-doctoral fellowships. Other programs funded by the RWW endowment include a traveling speaker series; local, national and international conferences and summer schools; a bi-annual women's studies retreat for instructors from colleges and universities in BC and the Yukon; and sponsorship and co-sponsorship of invited speakers on campus and in the community.

International interdisciplinary conference on

Gender, Sexuality & Health

Orientation & Administration
ORIENTATION INFORMATION

a) The Harbour Centre and the Conference

Overview of Harbour Centre complex:
The conference venue - the Harbour Centre complex - is situated in downtown Vancouver, near the waterfront - on the block bounded by Cordova (north), Hastings (south), Seymour (west) and Richards (east).
In addition to the downtown campus of Simon Fraser University, the complex includes a viewing deck, revolving restaurant, a series of retail outlets and a Food Court.
- The main entrance to the complex is on the corner of Seymour and Hastings: this gives access to the skylift elevators to the Vancouver lookout (enclosed viewing deck) and the Top of Vancouver revolving restaurant.
- The main entrance to Simon Fraser University at Harbour Centre is on Hastings (opposite the Delta Vancouver Hotel and Suites).
- The entry floor houses the library, the computer lab, and the conference meeting rooms - go straight ahead past the elevators, and they're on your left.
- The floor above consists of more meeting rooms and classrooms.
- The floor below houses the SFU bookstore and a few retail outlets (selling snacks, drinks, and newspapers).
- Two floors below you'll find lots more retail outlets (including a Post Office, pharmacy, currency exchange, and liquor store) and the Food Court.

Conference meeting rooms:
The conference sessions will be held in the following rooms, all on the left hand side of the Harbour Centre entry floor, past the elevators:
- The Fletcher Challenge Canada Theatre ("Fletcher Challenge").
This will be the venue for the opening and closing plenary sessions, and all of the keynote addresses.
- The Joseph and Rosalie Segal Centre ("Segal Centre"), which consists of 4 rooms:
1400 (Section A), 1410 (Section B), 1420 (Section C) and 1430 (Section D).
Sections C and D of the Segal Centre will be the venue for the poster sessions, book exhibits, and tea and coffee breaks.
- Meeting rooms 1500, 1510 and 1520 (go past the Segal Centre and turn left to locate these).
Room 1500 will be the conference office.

Conference registration:
Registration will take place outside the Fletcher Challenge.
The registration desk will be open at the following times:
- Thursday 10 June: 2.30 - 5.00 p.m.
- Friday 11 June: 8.00 a.m. - 3.00 p.m.
- Saturday 12 June: 8.00 a.m. - 3.00 p.m.
- Sunday 13 June: 8.00 a.m. - (approx.) noon.

Overview of Conference program:
The overall structure of the program is as follows (see Section 3 of this booklet for details):
- Thursday 10 June: Conference opening plenary at 5.00 p.m., followed by keynote address and welcome wine and cheese reception (to 7.30 p.m.).
- Friday 11 June and Saturday 12 June: Academic program from 8.30 a.m. to 6.00 p.m., including two keynote addresses, a poster session, and 4/5 parallel sessions at other times.
- Sunday 13 June: Academic program from 8.30 a.m. to 4.00 p.m., including keynote and plenary addresses, a poster session, and 4/5 parallel sessions at other times, ending with a closing plenary (to 4.30 p.m.)
- Monday 14 June and Tuesday 15 June: Satellite workshops from 9.30 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. (These are closed to those with relevant experience, who have pre-registered.)
b) The Harbour Centre Vicinity:

Ramada Hotel:

Delta Hotel:
The Delta Hotel and Suites is on Seymour and Hastings, behind the Morris J. Wosk Centre for Dialogue (which also belongs to Simon Fraser University). The Hastings entrance is directly opposite the SFU Harbour Centre campus main entrance.

Gastown (east of Harbour Centre):
The Gastown region is a 5 minute walk along Cordova (to the east: turn right along the waterfront from Harbour Centre). It's a good place for a lunchbreak - see 'Meals' in Section 2 of this booklet - and a good place to browse (if a bit touristy). Water Street is its 'heart'. Here, old warehouses have been developed into shops, restaurants galleries and workshops (sometimes with funky loft accommodation above). You might particularly want to visit the Inuit Gallery and the Spirit Wrestler Gallery for First Nations art and crafts (although Hill's is more affordable). And some people are intrigued by the 'Gassy Jack' steam clock.

Canada Place (west of Harbour Centre):
The Canada Place area is 5 -10 minute walk along Cordova (to the west: turn left along the waterfront from Harbour Centre). Together with the Waterfront Centre across the road from it, Canada Place is an alternative lunch stop, the cruise liner terminal (worth a look if you've never seen one up close), and a good place for views of the harbour and north shore. It also houses the Vancouver Convention and Exhibition Centre and an IMAX cinema complex. Many tour buses stop outside Canada Place (so it's easy to jump on the shuttle to Stanley Park, or to pick up a Gray Line or National tour further afield), and the main tourist info office is also located there (across the road, on the corner of Burrard) - see 'Tourism' in section 2 of this booklet.

Central downtown: (south of Harbour Centre):
Further afield, the heart of downtown Vancouver (shops, art gallery, more restaurants, etc.) is south of the Harbour Centre (i.e. uphill, away from the water). Robson Street is the main shopping street, and there are many more stores than at first apparent, in underground shopping malls (e.g. the Pacific Centre). To get to central downtown from Harbour Centre: walk south (uphill, away from the water) up Seymour (or a street parallel to Semout: e.g. Howe, Granville, Richards).
ADMINISTRATION INFORMATION
(Entries in this section are in alphabetical order)

ATMs (cash machines):
Located on both retail floors of the Harbour Centre complex.

Badges:
Please wear your conference badge at all times: it shows your entitlement to attend the academic sessions and to obtain refreshments in tea and coffee breaks. Admission may be denied to delgates not wearing badges. Coloured badges identify members of the Conference committee (blue) and Conference helpers (yellow). If you need assistance, please don't hesitate to ask one of us - or visit either the registration desk or the conference office (see below).

Banks:
The closest bank is TD Canada Trust, at 499 Granville Street (Tel: 604-654-3579).
Other banks on Georgia include: The Royal Bank of Canada (1025 W. Georgia; Tel: 604-665-8470) and Scotiabank (650 W. Georgia; Tel: 604-668-2094). HSBC is at 999 W. Hastings (near Hastings and Burrard); and Bank of Montreal is at 595 Burrard.

Book exhibits:
There will be two small book exhibits (in the Segal Centre), organized by local 'alternative' bookstores. On Friday, we will have Women in Print (local feminist bookstore); and on Saturday, Little Sister's (local lesbian and gay bookstore).
For more 'mainstream' offerings, and materials on Vancouver/BC/Canada, visit the SFU bookstore, one floor down from the conference meeting rooms (there is a discount coupon for the SFU bookstore in your conference pack).

Chairs for sessions:
We will endeavour to provide a Chair for all papers and symposia (not workshops) - however, as we are dependent on volunteers for this, and have several parallel sessions, please be prepared to chair your own session, or to appoint a volunteer from the audience, if necessary.

Coffee:
'Regular' coffee in Canada seems thin and weak to coffee connoisseurs, so if you need a serious caffeine fix, opt for expresso-based drinks, available at specialist coffee shops.
The closest coffee shops to Harbour Centre (main entrance) are:
- West Hastings: turn left for Blenz (at Richards) and Java Express (at Homer).
- Seymour: Starbucks (opposite the Delta hotel - head uphill) and - particularly recommended - The Coffee Cup (at Cordova - head downhill).
- There's also a Starbucks and a Java Express in the Canadian Pacific Railway Building (West Cordova).

Community - and other - exhibits:
There will be display tables in the foyer outside the Fletcher Challenge Theatre, providing display space for members of community organizations and conference delegates. If you wish to display materials relevant to the conference (e.g. about publications, courses, conferences, other events), please feel free to use these tables.

Conference office/press office:
This will be located in room 1500 (on the same corridor as two of the session rooms). We will attempt to keep the office staffed throughout the conference hours on Friday, Saturday and Sunday morning, but as we are reliant on volunteer help, it may be closed for short periods.

Currency exchange:
Located in the basement of the Harbour Centre complex.
Internet access:
This is available at the conference hotels: the Ramada offers complimentary hi-speed internet access cards for laptops; the Delta has a hi-speed internet service in its Business Centre. The computer lab in the Harbour Centre facility will also be available to conference delegates (if not otherwise in use): you will need to show your name badge for access.

Meals:
No meals are included in the conference registration fee; however, the Ramada hotel includes a (simple) continental breakfast in your room rate. There are several restaurants in the Delta hotel.
- The Harbour Centre has a Food Court in the basement (soups, sandwiches and salads, salads, burgers, curries, stir fries + a deli).
- You can get sandwiches in the Canadian Pacific Railway Building, and pub-style meals in The Steamworks Brewing Company (both on Cordova, almost opposite Harbour Centre).
- There are scores of eateries on Water Street in Gastown (continue east on Cordova, past The Steamworks):
  Within 5 mins walk are: MOMO Sushi, Royal India, Al Porto (pizza & seafood), Water Street Cafe, Rossini's (Italian), Cottage Deli/Cafe, Deighton's Well (burgers, pizza, pasta), Subway, Luna Specialty Coffee House, Thai Palace.
  Within 10 mins walk are: Old Spaghetti Factory, Brother's (pasta & seafood), Honey's Character Taverna (Greek), Indian Sitar, Bavaria (fast food), Pistol Burns (fair trades coffee and icecream), Nickie's & Lola's (sangria and tapas).
- If you head west on Cordova, there are still more restaurants in the Sinclair Centre and the Waterfront Centre, and at Canada Place.

Messages:
Please arrange to have any external telephone messages sent to you via your hotel.
Ramada: Tel: 604-488-1088
Delta: Tel: 604-689-8188
There will be a telephone in the conference office during conference hours on Friday, Saturday and Sunday FOR INCOMING EMERGENCY CALLS ONLY: Tel: 604-291-5020. This phone will not be available for delegates to make outgoing calls.
There are public payphones on all levels of the Harbour Centre facility for outgoing calls. The closest to the conference meeting rooms is at the far end of the corridor where rooms 1500, 1510 and 1520 are located (in the small sitting area).
There will be a message board in the registration area for internal conference messages.

Parking:
City Centre parking in Vancouver is expensive. There is a parkade beneath the Harbour Centre, and several others in the immediate vicinity (especially on Cordova). The best deals are 'Early Bird' rates (ie a fixed rate for the whole day, if you enter before 8.30 or 9.00, depending on the parkade) - otherwise you pay by the hour or half-hour. Check closing time - some close in the early evening (and if your car is locked in it can be expensive and time-consuming to get it out).

Pharmacy:
Located in the basement of the Harbour Centre complex.

Photocopying:
We do not have copying facilities at Harbour Centre. The closest copy shop is: KINKO'S, at 789 W. Pender (corner of Pender and Howe). Tel: 604-685-3338.
It's open 24 hours.

Post Office:
Located in the basement of the Harbour Centre complex.
Program changes:
The program was up-to-date as of 31 May, when we went to press. Any changes occurring between that date and the start of the conference will be announced at the opening plenary. Any changes occurring during the conference itself will be posted on a program board in the registration area.

Publication of conference proceedings:
The abstracts of all presentations at the conference will be published on the conference website shortly after the conference itself, together with a summary report of the conference. Selected papers from the conference will also be published as Special Issues of academic journals, and as an edited book. We hope to make information available in the delegate packs about these publishing projects.

Refreshments:
Tea and coffee will be served in the Segal Centre (sections C and D) in the designated morning and afternoon breaks.

Registration:
Registration will take place outside the Fletcher Challenge.
The registration desk will be open at the following times:
- Thursday 10 June: 2.30 - 5.00 p.m.
- Friday 11 June: 8.00 a.m. - 3.00 p.m.
- Saturday 12 June: 8.00 a.m. - 3.00 p.m.
- Sunday 13 June: 8.00 a.m. - (approx.) noon.

Safety:
Vancouver is much like any large city, and we suggest following the usual sensible safety precautions when walking around, particularly outside the downtown area. You may be approached by panhandlers, but they do not generally pose a problem. The area around Harbour Centre and the hotels is generally safe, but we recommend that you do not walk alone beyond the end of Water Street in Gastown, or venture east of Homer, particularly after dark.

Sitting areas:
There are a couple of (reasonably) quiet sitting areas near the conference meeting rooms. One is located at the end of the corridor past rooms 1500, 1510 and 1520. The other - with a view - is the small exhibition area directly behind the elevators.

Social Program:
There is a welcome "cheese and wine" reception on the first evening. The other evenings are free. However, for those who would like to join other conference delegates to eat, on the Friday and Saturday nights we will reserve some spaces at local restaurants within walking distance, on a sign-up basis (first come, first served), and conference helpers will act as group leaders to get you there.

Sport and Recreation Facilities:
Delegates staying at the Delta have access to its fitness suite and swimming pool. For delegates not at the Delta, the most convenient ‘drop in’ gym is Fit City, at 555 Pender Street (near Seymour and Pender). Tel: 604-412-7640. It’s open Mon-Fri 6.00 a.m. – 8.30 p.m.; Sat 10.00 a.m. – 5.00 p.m.; closed Sun. A day pass costs $7.
If you like to jog, bike or rollerblade, we particularly recommend the Stanley Park seawall.

Taxes:
Purchases and services attract a Provincial Sales Tax (PST) and a Goods and Services Tax (GST). Overseas visitors can claim a refund on GST for items over $50 – but you do need to keep your receipts for this, and also fill in a form (available at tourist shops, or at the airport).
Taxis:
Taxis are generally inexpensive, particularly if shared – but don’t forget the tip! You can generally pick one up outside Canada Place. Yellow Cabs have a large fleet and are generally very reliable – Tel: 604-681-1111.

Telephones:
Please see 'messages' (above).

Tipping:
The usual rate in restaurants, and for other services, is 15%.

Tourism:
We have provided some 'introductory' tourist information in your conference packs. If you need more information, ask at the registration desk or the office; still better, visit the main Vancouver tourist office, which is about 10 mins walk from the Harbour Centre complex, on the corner of Burrard Street and Cordova (head west along Cordova from the Harbour Centre, and it's just past the Canada Place complex, on the other side of the road).
Address: 200 Burrard Street, Vancouver BC, V6C 3L6.
Tel: 604-682-2222; Website: <www.tourismvancouver.com>

Washrooms:
Located on all floors of the Harbour Centre complex. To find the closest washrooms to the conference meeting rooms: go past rooms 1500, 1510 and 1520, and turn into the corridor on your left.

Day & Time: Thursday, 5.30 - 6.30 p.m.

* Monica J. Casper, Former Executive Director of Intersex Society of North America (ISNA), Seattle, WA, USA.
The Intersex Society of North America (ISNA) is the organization which campaigns for education about and improved services for people born intersexed (i.e. those who do not fit conventional definitions of 'male' or 'female'). Monica Casper will be taking up a new post as Director of Women's Studies at Vanderbilt University in the Fall.
Title of presentation: "Babies, Bodies and Medicine: What do Women's Health and Intersex Issues Have in Common?"
Day & Time: Friday, 10.45 - 11.45 a.m.

* Lesley Doyal, Professor of Health and Social Care, School for Policy Studies, University of Bristol, England.
Lesley Doyal is a leading expert on the political economy of health and the relationship between health and underdevelopment; and an advisor to many organizations, including the United Nations and the World Health organization.
Title of presentation: "Researching Gender, Health and Globalization: Opportunities and Challenges."
Day & Time: Friday, 5.00 - 6.00 p.m.

* Cindy Patton, Associate Professor, Departments of Sociology & Anthropology and Women's Studies, Simon Fraser University.
Cindy Patton has recently been appointed to a Canada Research Chair in Culture, Community and Health at Simon Fraser University; and is internationally-known for her work on HIV/AIDS.
Title of presentation: "From Wasting to Lumpy: Gender, Body Image, and HIV Treatment Side Effects."
Day & Time: Saturday, 10.45 - 11.45 a.m.

* Gilles Marchildon, Executive Director of Égale Canada, Ottawa, ON, Canada.
Égale Canada is the organization advancing equality and justice for lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgendered people and their families across Canada; and has led the major national campaign for 'equal marriage' for same-sex couples.
Title of presentation: "After the Walk Down the Same-Sex Wedding Aisle: What are the Next Frontiers for the LGBT Community?"
Day & Time: Saturday, 5.00 - 6.00 p.m.

* Angela Thachuk, MA Student, Department of Women's Studies, Simon Fraser University.
(Keynote Graduate Student Speaker)
Angela Thachuk will graduate from the MA Women's Studies Program this summer, and plans to begin a PhD in the Fall. Her interests are in issues of autonomy and choice in women's healthcare; the history and philosophy of midwifery practice; bioethics; and new reproductive technologies.
Title of presentation: "Midwifery, Informed Choice and Relational Autonomy."
Day & Time: Sunday, 11.15 - 11.45 a.m.
Special Features

Plenary sessions:

Opening plenary (Thursday 5.00 p.m., Fletcher Challenge):
- Welcome from Chair of Women's Studies
- Welcome and introduction from Conference Chair
- Opening announcements

Invited plenary (Sunday 11.45 a.m., Fletcher Challenge):
Miriam Stewart, Scientific Director of the Canadian Institutes of Health Research, Institute of Gender and Health, will speak about the work of the Institute.

Closing plenary: (Sunday 4.00 p.m., Fletcher Challenge):
- Panel discussion with Conference Chair and keynote speakers
- Farewell and closing announcements

Special symposia:

We are pleased to include two symposia showcasing the work of our co-sponsor, the British Columbia Centre of Excellence for Women's Health. These will be on Friday at 2.30 p.m., and Sunday at 8.30 a.m., in the Fletcher Challenge.

Exhibits:

Art exhibit: Zulis Yalte's conceptual sculptural installation, "Border Crossings", will be on display in the Segal Centre (section B).

Book exhibits: Women in Print (feminist bookstore) will have a bookstand in the Segal Centre (sections C and D) on Friday; and Little Sister's (lesbian and gay bookstore) will have a bookstand in the Segal Centre (sections C and D) on Saturday.

Community exhibits: Community - and other - organizations will have display tables in the foyer outside the Fletcher Challenge. Conference delegates are also welcome to use these tables to display relevant materials.

Graduate student strand:

Graduate students may be particularly interested in the following sessions:
- Workshop: 'Getting published in academic journals', Saturday 8.30 a.m. (Room 1510)
- Invited student symposium, Saturday 11.45 a.m. (Fletcher Challenge)
- Student keynote speaker, Sunday 11.15 a.m. (Fletcher Challenge)
- Sessions in the conversation analysis strand (see below).

Conversation analysis strand:

Several sessions taking place on Sunday - all in room 1510 - are designed to provide an introduction to conversation analysis (the study of talk-in-interaction):
- The workshop at 8.30 a.m. is a practical introduction to doing conversation analysis (no previous experience required).
- The paper 'Doing sexuality on talk-back radio' at 12.45 provides an example of conversation-analytic research from Australia.
- The symposium at 2.30 p.m. provides further examples of (feminist) conversation analytic work currently being carried out by graduate students in the UK.

(Pre-registered delegates with experience of conversation analysis will also be attending 'advanced' satellite workshops on the Monday and Tuesday following the conference.)
Satellite workshops:

The organization of these workshops differs from the preliminary publicity on the conference website. Instead of an (introductory) address in the morning, open to everyone, followed by an (advanced) workshop in the afternoon, for those with some experience of conversation analysis, BOTH morning and afternoon sessions will now be limited to pre-registered participants with experience of conversation analysis ONLY. Both sessions will entail 'hands-on' data analysis.

Fees (to be paid on site) are as follows:
Conference delegates (pre-registered only): Canadian $30 (students $20) per day
Non-delegates (pre-registered only): Canadian $65 (students $45) per day
Please note: We regret that we are not able to offer credit card facilities for payment of satellite workshop fees.

The venue for both workshops will be Room 1500. Workshops will begin at 9.30 (registration/payment at 9.00, also at Room 1500).

Satellite Workshop: Monday 14 June

Professor John Heritage, UCLA: 'Medical Interaction'. This workshop will focus on the analysis of doctor-patient consultations (video data).

Satellite Workshop: Tuesday 15 June

Professor Emanuel A. Schegloff, UCLA: 'Analyzing-Talk-in-Interaction'. This workshop will focus on the analysis of everyday conversation (audio data).
