HYDROELECTRIC DAMS

and EFFECTS ON THE COMMUNITY

Tuesday, March 18th 2003
11am-1pm, room Sentinel 113

Dr. Joy Parr,

the Farley Professor of History at Simon Fraser University, will be giving a presentation entitled, "After the Dam: reflections of a drowned village."

Dr. Parr is studying the question of how megaprojects like big hydroelectric dams, were constructed and their impacts on the landscape and the people in the area.
