ILLEGAL LOGGING: MULTI BILLION DOLLAR TRANSACTIONS HIDING IN PLAIN SIGHT

There is no common agreed definition of illegal logging. Three perspectives of what constitutes illegal logging: firstly, that of The Royal Institute of International Affairs (RIIA), an international policy analysis institute, secondly, from Global W...

CANADA’S PACIFIC GROUNDFISH TRAWL FISHERY: ECOSYSTEM CONFLICTS

The B.C. groundfish trawl fishery came under attack from ENGOs in the mid-2000s for destruction of the aquatic habitat. This case study examines the negotiations and the degree of success of the world’s first habitat bycatch limitation agreement.

GLOBAL CLIMATE JUSTICE

What distribution of adjustment costs for climate change mitigation is fair, and should be acceptable to the most (important) countries? Are there ways of framing the issue that could be more effective in galvanizing effective action?
