

Guide to HbRf-39 Floor Plans

Jonathan Driver

October 2022

Floor plans were drawn on standard forms when the space for floor plans on the level record form was too small for the required details. Therefore there are not floor plans for every level in every unit. The forms consisted of four large blank gridded squares, each representing 1 by 1 metre divided into 10cm squares. So each page can contain up to four floor plans.

The archive consists of (a) all of the floor plans in a single PDF document, together with an index; (b) separate PDF documents for each excavation unit. This means that the plans have been duplicated in the archive, but may make it easier to find the relevant plans.